Weekly Theme - 'What do you need to make you Happy'

On the evening of that first day of the week, when the disciples were together, with the doors locked for fear of the Jewish leaders, Jesus came and stood among them and said, "Peace be with you!" After he said this, he showed them his hands and side. The disciples were

Again Jesus said, "Peace be with you! As the Father has sent me, I am sending you." And with that he breathed on them and said, "Receive the Holy Spirit. If you forgive anyone's sins, their sins are forgiven; if you do not forgive them, they are not forgiven."

Sunday 27th May was the Feast of Pentecost,

We live in the midst of chaotic times as we witness the melt-down of financial markets and the escalating effects of global warming. As crises continue to build, we may find ourselves confused or fearful. We may want to gather in the upper room of our lives with our closest friends and close the door on a troubled world. Yet chaos always calls for creative response, it always beckons us to open to holy surprise. On Sunday we celebrated the feast of Pentecost, that glorious final day of the season of resurrection. The apostles were together experiencing bewilderment over how to move forward when the Holy Spirit flows among them and breathes courage into their hearts.

It says that those who witnessed this event were 'amazed and perplexed.' Some were confused, others cynical. Peter reminds the crowds of the words the prophet Joel declared, that all will be called to dreams and visions, all will need to be attentive to signs and wonders.

The story of Pentecost asks us a question: How do I let my expectations and cynicism close my heart to the new voice rising like a fierce wind?

If we allow ourselves to become Spirit filled, we will indeed have all that we need to make us happy.

All loving God, your Spirit is dwelling deep in the hearts of each of us, urging us to work for peace, justice, reconciliation and respect for the wonderful world you have given us. We ask that you give us the courage we need to see your Holy Spirit at work within us and among us, and lead us into more joyful and courageous ways of working together for the coming of your Kingdom. Amen
