STUCK FOR WHAT TO READ NEXT?

This Evening Standard article lists 2020's top ten young adult novels, reels you in with a little bit about each one and also points out how, thanks to huge successes like Twilight and Hunger Games, more and more adults are choosing to read YA fiction.

Reading broadens our knowledge, gain understanding from experiences different to our own and to listen to others' stories. This is a poignant time to choose one of these great reads.

BLACK LIVES MATTER

Malorie Blackman's award-winning Noughts and Crosses series is available to read on Audible, Kindle and Borrowbox.

It was also made into a tv series earlier this year and is available to watch on iplayer.

Remember to use the link on Google classroom to The Day.

A great place to keep up to date with the latest news on everything. As an example, here's a link to an article we can probably all do with reading at the moment

Zog and the Flying Doctors tell the lion with the sneeze.
"Don't sneeze into your paw - and use a paper hanky, please."

I'm busy planning ahead for when we're back at school. In the library, there will be clubs, special events and competitions and there's a big charity quiz planned and there will be lots of new books to browse through and borrow. Keep reading. Stay safe. Mrs Brazier
